Music to Your Ears: Groove to the Sounds of the Music Room

"SYSOP SIDS"

Enjoy Music? Sure you do — everyone does. Listening to music is fun! So is making music, experimenting with music files and sharing your tuneful creations with others. The Commodore Information Network's Music Room Support Group helps folks do all of this and more every day.

Join other Commodore music enthusiasts nightly in Music Connection's MUSIC STUDIO (7 p.m. until midnight), MUSIC HALL (10 p.m. until 2 a.m.), and MIDI STUDIO (11 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.). Or test your memory for notes and lyrics at NAME THIS TUNE at 10:30 p.m.

The Music Room, featured this month on the Commodore Information Network's main menu, has something to offer all Q-Link members, from the casual listener to the professional musician — and everyone in between.

For years, the Q-Link Music Room has been the place for Commodore computer owners to download music software, find information, and seek advice from other people interested in computer-created music. The group has grown so much that it now includes two major sub groups (SID and MIDI/General/C128 Libraries).

If you love listening to music, you can choose a large selection of public-domain music player programs and thousands of music files in every imaginable style and form. The SID Software Libraries are completely dedicated to music created with the popular SID editor program (SID stands for Sound Interface Device, the chip that lets your computer play music).

Selections include pop, ragtime, movie and television theme, classical, reggae, you name it! Files found here may include music, words that can be made to appear on the screen in time to the music, pictures that can be shown with the music and even stereo music files. You'll also find professional-quality utilities like Mark Dickenson's Stereo Player and Robert Stoerrle's Stereo Editor (both of which can be used for all mono or stereo SID files). If you like the way a SID file sounds in Music Connection, come to the Software Libraries and download the file to keep and play offline.

The MIDI/General/C128 Libraries support all the other commercial music programs available for the 64/128. Get information from the pros on using MIDI (Musical Instrument Digital Interface) to link a synthesizer to your computer and create your own home sound studio! The message boards in the SID and the General/MIDI Music Rooms are helpful sources of information on how to do things, where to find more information, what's currently going on in the group (contests, plans for on- and offline events, etc.) and what's new in the music community. Help from the Music Room is available not only from the team of knowledgeable SYSOPs (JON, SIDS, MIDI and KEYS), SYSHELP JG and the Music Studio/Hall QDJs of Music Connection, but also from many of our very helpful group regulars.

The Music Room also sponsors its own rooms in the People/Music Connection. Stop in there using Super Q and you'll find our QDJs playing music for you, chatting about music and doing any number of crazy things.

The MUSIC STUDIO is open seven days a week from 7 p.m. until midnight. The MUSIC HALL is open from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m., and the MIDI STUDIO is open from 11 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.

The Music Room Support Group meets formally once a week for a conference at 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays in People Connection's CIN MUSIC ROOM. Topics this month include tips on getting started in Classical SIDs, last-minute planning for the Las Vegas SIDFest and ideas for using MIDI Term 4.0. Feel free to join us and ask questions, add your comments or just listen. Everyone's welcome! Those looking more for entertainment than enlightenment can join us in the MUSIC STUDIO at 10:30 for NAME THIS TUNE.

There's always something going on in the MUSIC ROOM, so stop by, browse around and have some fun! Check the Music Room's Music Room News area for more information and a complete schedule of events.

SUMMER SCHOOL WAS NEVER SO GOOD

All right, so maybe the school year just ended, and the last thing on your mind is honing your intellect by spending part of the summer - ugh - learning.

But we're not talking dusty books and ink-stained hands here — Q-Link's Learning Center has been completely redesigned, and offers you plenty of ways to make your summer intellectual pursuits interesting and, yes, educational, too. Educators especially will want to take a break from the beach and sneak a peek at the new Teacher Information Network.

Sign Up for a Course in the Interactive Education Center

Homework help, self-enrichment courses, and non-accredited college-level classes have been consolidated in the new Interactive Education Center. Learn something new online this summer! Courses include:

- geoPublish and GEOS Secrets. Turn your 64 or 128 into a desktop publishing center with help from this course. Students will practice laying out and designing projects, transferring graphics, and writing and wrapping articles for professional-looking results.
- Understanding Russian and the USSR. A timely survey course that introduces the characteristics and differences between Russia and the Soviet Union. You'll also examine highlights of Russian and Soviet history, and take a look at contemporary Soviet society.
- Introduction to DOS. Gain a basic understanding of this popular disk operating system for IBM and IBM-compatible computers. You'll cover the relationship of MS-DOS to computer operations, functions, and internal and external commands.
- Infertility in the '90s. The inability to conceive a child affects many couples, and this course will discuss and examine causes of infertility and treatments that can increase the chances of conception.

New Courses, Teaching Resources Offer You More in Q-Link's Learning Center

More courses appealing to your computing and general interests are offered too, and registration is taking place this month. Check the Course Offerings area of the Interactive Education Center for course descriptions, class schedules, and registration procedures.

NEW: Talk Shop with Other Educators in the Teachers' Information Network

Use it or lose it, the saying goes, and if you're a teacher you won't stop thinking about school when the final bell rings in June. Summer gives you a "breather," a time when you can gain some new insights into your profession in Q-Link's Teachers' Information Network, located on the Learning Center's main menu.

The Idea Exchange lets you network with teachers across the country to trade information and discuss teaching techniques, classroom management, and the role of computers in your school. Weekly conferences are planned throughout the summer in the Teachers' Forum, a conference area dedicated to meetings for educators, administrators, and parents.

You can use the Software Reviews available in this area to evaluate the appropriateness of new educational programs for your grade level.

Get a hop on the next school year by familiarizing yourself now with "TIN" — check the About the Teachers' Information Network for a complete rundown.

QPersonality Spotlight

Meet Two of Your Favorite Online Stars

"Eileen C," former People Connection producer and a Q-Link personality in her own right, still haunts the hallowed halls of Q to keep up with her old online friends. Below, she turns her "Spotlight of Fame" on two of Q-Link's most notable stars.

Q-Link has always boasted a top-notch line-up of room hosts and interesting personalities who lead our clubs, host People Connection events, and make Q-Link a fun and exciting place to be.

One of the 'Linkers leading the way in this fascinating group is none other than "QTEND Matt," a bartender in People Connection's BONNIE'S BAR.

"QTEND Matt," also known online as "BIGSQUEEZE" and "MattH18," has been a Q-Link member since April 1989, and he unabashedly admits to being "one of the biggest QAddicts around."

Offline, "QTEND Matt" is Matt Hamrick, a 22-year old member of the 75th Ranger Regiment in Ft. Benning, GA. His military career has brought him his share of adventures, like parachuting into Panama on December 20, 1989 as part of "Operation Just Cause." Matt says the greatest thing about hosting on Q-Link is "all the wonderful people you meet. I've made several friends and many family members, and I love them all."

In addition to his barkeep duties in BONNIE'S BAR, "QTEND Matt" also keeps busy by hosting the popular FENDER BENDERS game room and the provocative

"EILEEN C"

TRUTH OR DARE room. Drop by BONNIE'S BAR some evening to meet "QTEND Matt." He'll slide a drink your way with a hearty "Comin' atcha!"

Another well-known QPersonality is "CCG Khoona," the illustrious leader of the CCG hosts on Club Caribe, Q-Link's interactive island resort.

"Khoona," known as Mike DeArruda in offline circles, can usually be found sitting outside his beach shack in the northwest corner of Club Caribe, entertaining island visitors with colorful stories. When he's not hanging out at his Caribe shack, "Khoona" lives with his wife Debbie and three dogs in sunny Florida, and works as a Senior Systems Analyst/Project Leader at Time Customer Service, Inc.

CCG Khoona

"Khoona" has been a Q-Linker since the network's early days. In all that time, his greatest claim to fame (notoriety is more like it) has been his ongoing feud with "Tahiba," Caribe's mystical sorceress. Whenever new island regions are developed, poor "Khoona" is fingered by "Tahiba" as being responsible for the noise and construction mess. It's no wonder that the shout most often heard echoing around the island is "Khoona did it!"

Enjoy some island fun with "Khoona." The next time you're visiting Club Caribe, drop by his beach shack to hear some of his interesting tales of island lore.

Club Caribe

Play the Island Stock Market And Own A Piece of Caribe!

"CCG KAILUA"

Imagine being the first Donald Trump of Club Caribe, Q-Link's fabulous island paradise. As you head toward the Caribe Stock Exchange, visions of owning that beautiful yacht anchored offshore by Lover's Point dance in your head. Just imagine .... a little luck in Club Caribe's stock market, and ....

It could have happened to anyone — but it's happened to you. Kelly's Bar has been so successful lately, the hundred shares of stock you bought in it have greatly increased in value. Deciding to share your good news with others, you stop by the Help Desk.

"I'm rich!" you shout. "Drinks are on me at Kelly's!" A stampede for the teleport begins.

Later, as Kelly's regulars take full advantage of your generosity, everyone asks how you acquired enough tokens to pay for the last ten rounds of drinks.

"It's easy!" you exclaim. "Every Tuesday night from 10 to 11 p.m. EDT, the Club Caribe Stock Exchange opens for business."

As you tell everyone about how shares can be bought, sold or traded with only a small brokerage fee of 10% per transaction, small groups start to form and whispers of "Cassie's is always a popular spot" and "Let's form a group and pool our tokens" can be overheard.

"I'll let you all in on a secret," you say. "The more stock sold, the higher the price is. But there's also a random factor to consider. When you buy a stock the broker rolls a die and determines the price. If you're lucky, you can buy a stock for much less than it's worth!"

"Tell us more!" yells the group.

"Ah, if I did that, I'd be giving away trade secrets," you chuckle. "Let's just say that I plan to keep an eye on the Club Caribe events schedule in the near future." You head out of Kelly's with a smile on your face.

Do fortune and fame await you? Play the Club Caribe Stock Market and find out!

Join Role-Playing Fans For FireCon June 16

"GM IC"

FireCon explodes onto your Q-Link screen the weekend of June 16-17, bringing the excitement of a role-playing fantasy convention directly into your home!

FireCon is an event that's simply too big for any one club — it requires the talents and resources of both the Fiction & Fantasy Club and the Phantasy Guild. While "JPTigerCat" is keeping his plans secret for the 17th, the weekend will kick off with a four-hour Role-Play Tournament, starting at 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 16 in the Phantasy Guild. Tournament participants can win software prizes from FireCon sponsor Steve Jackson Games, a leader in the role-playing game industry.

If you can't make it to the tourney, look for pick-up games in Just For Fun's Phantasy Guild, contests in People Connection's Red Dragon Inn, and a Special Auditorium Event at midnight (JP isn't the only one that can keep secrets ;)). Q-Pon and Caribe prizes will be given away, along with over 50 hours of Plus Time!

Send E-Mail to "GM Critias" to sign up for the tournament — all other events are held on a drop-in basis. For the latest FireCon news and information, visit the Phantasy Guild or Fiction & Fantasy Club.

To fight crime in Philly, people plant posies.

"The bad part of town."

Abandoned cars. Sidewalks scattered with crack vials. Bombed-out buildings.

A neighborhood whose spirit is as broken as the bits of glass that dot the street. There are only two things to do if your neighborhood becomes a war zone: give up or take action.

The Philadelphia Story

One day, in the "bad part" of Philadelphia, a neighbor complained to a neighbor. And then to another. And then to more. People didn't like their homes being "taken over." Feelings of helplessness and resentment turned to action.

They went to the police for help.

Soon a substation was established where folks could readily report crime. Weekly meetings began. Community watches started. Things started getting fixed up. Vacant lots were cleaned up and fenced. Abandoned cars were towed away. Painting and repairing programs began.

The neighborhood was cleaning itself up. The local 4-H Club even helped set up garden clubs where kids, teens and adults could work together on plants and flowers while talking over ways to raise awareness.

When people care and get involved, neighborhoods change. When a block doesn't look like a haven for crime and drugs, it won't be. And in this part of Philly, where once only apathy grew, seven gardens now bloom.

This is only one success story of many. To find out what can be done in your neighborhood, write: The McGruff Files, 1 Prevention Way, Washington, D.C. 20539-0001.

And help...
